

REMEMBER: There are many, many different musical careers: from playing an instrument, to working in a studio, to writing or arranging music, to being an announcer on a radio station.

Help Jollip think of possible careers in music (besides music monster!). Circle the musical careers in the list below:

- | | | | |
|---------------|---------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| accountant | orchestra conductor | bus driver | singer |
| lawyer | music librarian | church musician | soloist |
| music teacher | plumber | cashier | radio announcer |

MULTIPLE CHOICE:

What do conductors use to see the different parts instruments are playing?

- really big glasses a music score binoculars a program

Music librarians need to have a special degree in what field?

- music history music mysteries library science rock 'n' roll

The one thing every musician has to do is:

- eat five times a day learn to dance practice, practice, practice sign autographs

EXTRA CREDIT: NOTE READING SKILLS

There are only seven letters in the musical alphabet: A, B, C, D, E, F, and G. By following the guide on the left, place whole notes on the blank staff and label your notes with the correct letter name.

