

DOUBLE REEDS

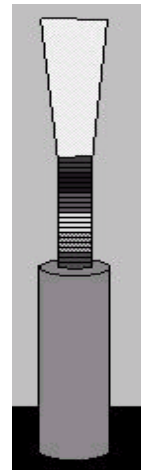

Circle the instruments which have double reeds:

- oboe trumpet violin bassoon drum
piano contrabassoon flute English horn

Which instrument plays the tuning note for the orchestra?

- trombone clarinet oboe

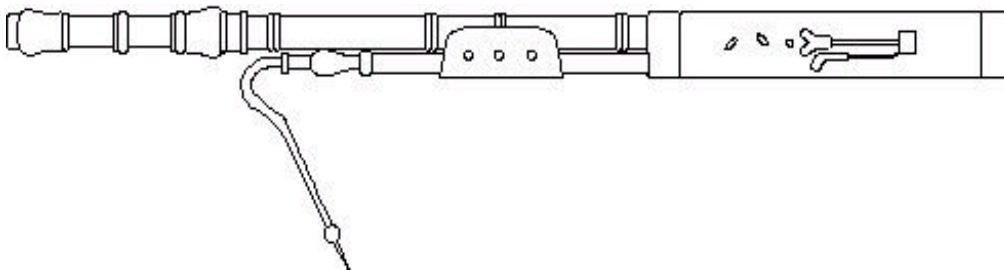

True or False:

The oboe sounds higher than the contrabassoon. T F Double Reed

The English horn can only be played in England. T F

It takes a lot of practice to play an oboe well. T F

This is a bassoon. Jollip called it a “tree trunk!”

See the bocal?

chromatic scale: every note on an instrument

This program was made possible by support from the Friends of Boombox.